City of The Colony News Release

The Colony, TX – August 24, 2011

Public Meeting Regarding Event Sign Policy

The public is invited to attend a public meeting on August 29, 2011 at 7:00 pm in the Council Chambers at City Hall to discuss a new policy that deals with event signs located within The Colony. On October 1, 2011 the city's policy for event signage will be changing. It is our desire to make this transition as easy as possible.

At this meeting city staff will be available to explain the new ordinances and policies and to answer any questions that you may have about the new process. We look forward to visiting with you and discussing how we will work with you to get your event posted in the city.

If you are unable to attend the meeting, or are unable to send a proxy, the presentation will be posted online following the Labor Day holiday. In addition, you may direct any questions to Brooks Wilson, Senior Planner for the city of The Colony at bwilson@thecolonytx.gov or by telephone at 972-624-3164.

In order to ensure that the information is as widely spread as possible, please feel free to forward this message to anyone that you believe would benefit from the information.
